To the Office of The Auditor-General

24 April 2012

Dear Ms Provost,

I understand your Office has as its focus the way public entities use their resources, including financial, governance, management and organisational issues.

With this in mind I am asking your Office to investigate and rule on both a financial issue and management issue in respect of Mighty River Power. This State owned Enterprise will shortly be put up for partial sale to investors.

The principle issue is the deliberate lack of information regarding this company's wind farms, consented, Turitea, and proposed and under consideration, Puketoi. Both wind farms are on earthquake fault lines and the company is failing to advise investors of this fact. There is considerable risk to the hundreds of millions of dollars these wind farms will cost to construct. They are very likely uninsurable. I realise your Office does not have the power to investigate the corrupt manner in which these wind farms have been and are being developed. These matters are, however, covered on the following website, as is also the earthquake risk.

Specific to my request to adjudicate, please review the following.

A failure to fully disclose that these wind farms are located in arguably the most hazardous seismic area of New Zealand is blatant fraud and an attempt to pump up the price before this very public international offering.

This is a very serious matter and requires your urgent attention.

Yours sincerely

Paul Stichbury
